RULE #5

Fairness means treating everybody differently.

“Fairness means treating everyone _____.” Most people would respond with, “the same.” But fairness actually means treat everyone “differently.” Everyone is unique and deserves to be treated as an individual. Everyone should be given special treatment. This concept often gets confused with that of equality. Keep in mind that equality and fairness are not synonyms. The logic of equality assumes that everyone is the same, but we know that everyone is not the same. Rather, we are unique, and therefore should be treated accordingly, especially at work.
